MAGNIFICENT

Was the Outpouring of Members of the Young Men's Institute.

Joint Initiation Held by Local Councils Was Well Attended.

Big Banquet After the Ceremonies Was An Enjoyable Affair.

DEGREE TEAM DID SPLENDID WORK

Last Sunday was the greatest day in the history of the Young Men's Institute of the Kentucky jurisdiction. The occasion was a joint initiation held by Trinity, Satoli and Mackin Councils of Louisville and the New Haven council. As it marked the first exemplification of degree work under the new ritual the event was full of interest for all members of the order. Visitors were present from Indianapolis, North Vernon and New Albany, Ind., and from Lexington, Lebanon, New Haven, Carrollton, Frankfort and other points in Kentucky. The ceremonies were held at St. Anthony's Hall, Twenty-third and Market streets. The meeting opened at 3 and lasted until after 6 o'clock. About sixty candidates were initiated. The new degree work is impressive, instructive and entertaining. It includes in its make-up religion, patriotism, history and chivalry. The exemplification was rendered doubly impressive by the fact that it was given by a degree team made up of four members from each of the three local councils. Each officer well understood the part allotted to him and not a balk was made from start to finish. Another feature of the work that added to the general effect was the singing of a trained choir under the direction of Prof. James Perry, Jr.

The hall was filled with local and visiting members of the Young Men's Institute before 2 o'clock, but it was nearly 3 before some of the visitors arrived. Among these was the Rev. Father I. N. Ahmann, of Carrollton, Grand Chaplain of the order, and who had much to do with drafting the new ritual. Father Ahmann's arrival was the signal for prolonged applause, showing the high esteem in which this beloved priest is held.

The Rev. Father J. A. O'Grady opened the meeting with prayer, after which the executive session began. Will T. McNally presided as master of ceremonies and Ben Hunt acted as marshal. The initiation proceeded and degrees one, two and three were conferred in regular order. During all three degrees Prof. James Perry, Jr., presided at the organ and was assisted by Albert Metzger on the violin. The other members of the degree team were as follows: Harry Colgan, John Fahey, John J. Crotty, representing Satoli Council; James E. Kelly, Joseph Piazza, Harry Swann, of Trinity Council, and Charles Raidy, Walter Adams, Gus Weber, George Lautz and Hugh J. Higgins, of Mackin Council. John J. Barry, of New Haven, Grand Director of the Kentucky jurisdiction and Supreme Director of the order, and Grand President Will Perry were among the prominent members who witnessed the initiatory ceremonies. From start to finish the attention of both the candidates and older members was riveted on the splendid work of the degree team, which was as perfect as it could be made. Great credit for this is due Grand Secretary George A. Lautz, who worked night and day organizing and rehearsing the degree team.

Those initiated were: Satoli Council—J. S. Rodman, Leo C. Kerrick, Francis J. Mulvey and Alexis Schulten.

St. Catherine Council, of New Haven—George W. Dant and Nicholas A. Rapier. Trinity Council—William Herman, Nicholas Hettlinger, Frank Peters, E. Kotheimer, W. J. Maloney, Jr., Charles King, F. H. Leisman, J. F. Bush, J. Rush, G. Schindler, J. Sainlar, Anthony Pohl, August Pohl, Pat Connaughton, M. F. Morris, Alfred Klumb, Mike Tynan, Anthony Fert, Phil Hendricks, Jr., Ben J. Pfeiffer, Tim J. Foley, Michael Ziegler, Thomas Bodenmiller, Anton J. Weinberg, Pat W. Kearns, C. B. Mullins, Dr. P. N. Delus, Frank Meixsel, Hugh Welsh, Charles Kremer, J. J. Cain and Aloysius Barrett.

The initiation went through without a hitch and was greatly enjoyed by all present. Among the visitors from other cities were John J. Barry, Grand Director; Joe G. Barry, William J. Dawson, Edwin C. Dawson, William H. Greenwell, M. Krebs, J. Walker Bowling, Bernard Bowling, Joseph Pottinger, Henry Despain, Don J. Ball, Frank X. Dawson, Frank M. Hagan, J. Sidney Hagan and Dr. J. D. Greenwell, all of New Haven; P. J. West, John Glander, James Horan, Hermon Helmes, Harmon Sappinfield and Dr. M. Casey, all of Carrollton; Charles F. Pfeffer, Ben Gilderhouse, John Parsons, Con J. McBarron, John J. Coyle, F. A. Kurtzendorfer, Frank Renn, Nicholas Roth, Joseph Roth, Ed Grantz, Fred Reisz, Ed E. Smith, Joseph Trudeau, Louis Glass, William J. Receveur, Ed Graff, Anton Sohn and Philip Weisbach, all of Unity Council, New Albany; Robert Riley and William Adams, of Indianapolis, Ind.; President Richard Colbert, John J. Luby and James J. O'Brien, all of Lexington; W. A. Lutkemeier, J. H. Lutkemeier, J. W. Madigan, W. C. Newman, Lambert Newman, John Dolan, Ed Hunt, Lambert Gobber, George B. Salender, Jr., D. J. McNamara and W. J. Gorman, all of Frankfort; John Barr, John McKenna, Ed McKenna, Joseph Bonnell and F. L. Ballard, all of Lebanon.

Immediately after the conclusion of the initiatory ceremonies the new and old members to the number of 250 sat down to an elaborate banquet served by Julius Muench, the popular restaurant proprietor and caterer. Harry Swann presided as toastmaster in happy style. The banquet was all the more delightful in that it was entirely informal. Mr. Swann stated that the day was to him, as to all other members, a day of great happiness. He complimented the degree team on its excellent work. He also extended a warm welcome to the new members and then introduced the Grand Chaplain, the Rev. Father Ahmann. Father Ahmann was greeted with round after round of applause and was unable to speak for five minutes. When he did get a chance to speak he said it was not necessary for a long speech, so instead of delivering one he recited the Hon. James Mulligan's "In Kentucky," and added a few verses of his own addressed to the Y. M. I. Father Ahmann literally brought down the house.

Grand President Will Perry, when called upon, stated that this occasion was one of the brightest pages in the history of the Young Men's Institute, and suggested that June 7 hereafter be celebrated as Father Ahmann's day. Rev. Father O'Grady was also warmly greeted and expressed himself as highly gratified with what he had seen and heard during the day. It augured well, he said, for the Young Men's Institute in Kentucky. Councilman Augustus J. Biot made the address of the evening and caused frequent outbursts of laughter and applause. He paid particular attention to indorsing the religious, chivalric and historical features of the new degree work. Dr. M. Casey, President of the "baby" council at Carrollton, and Emmet Slattery made brief addresses which were well received.

Rev. Father Seraphim Schlang, D. D., was introduced. He said if there is anything that conduces to make good citizens it is a good class of Catholics. America was discovered by a Catholic. The great West was settled by a race of hardy Catholics. Liberty was proclaimed by Catholics and now Catholics are doing the best work for our beloved country. He urged all to become loyal citizens, to support the constitution and to always remain bold and fearless Catholics. Eugene Cooney, Secretary of the Jefferson County Federation of Catholic Societies, made a brief but interesting talk on "Federation." The banquet was brought to a close with the singing of a new ode, "Faith and Fraternity," written and dedicated to the Y. M. I. by the Grand Secretary of the Indiana Jurisdiction. It runs thus:

We are the Y. M. I.,
Bright is our star on high,
Guiding our name,
Striving for unity,
Men in fraternity,
God give us charity,
Truth is our aim.

Long live our motto true,
E're may it lead us to
Him the most high;
Long may it grace our land,
Strong may its power stand,
God bless its purpose and
The Y. M. I.

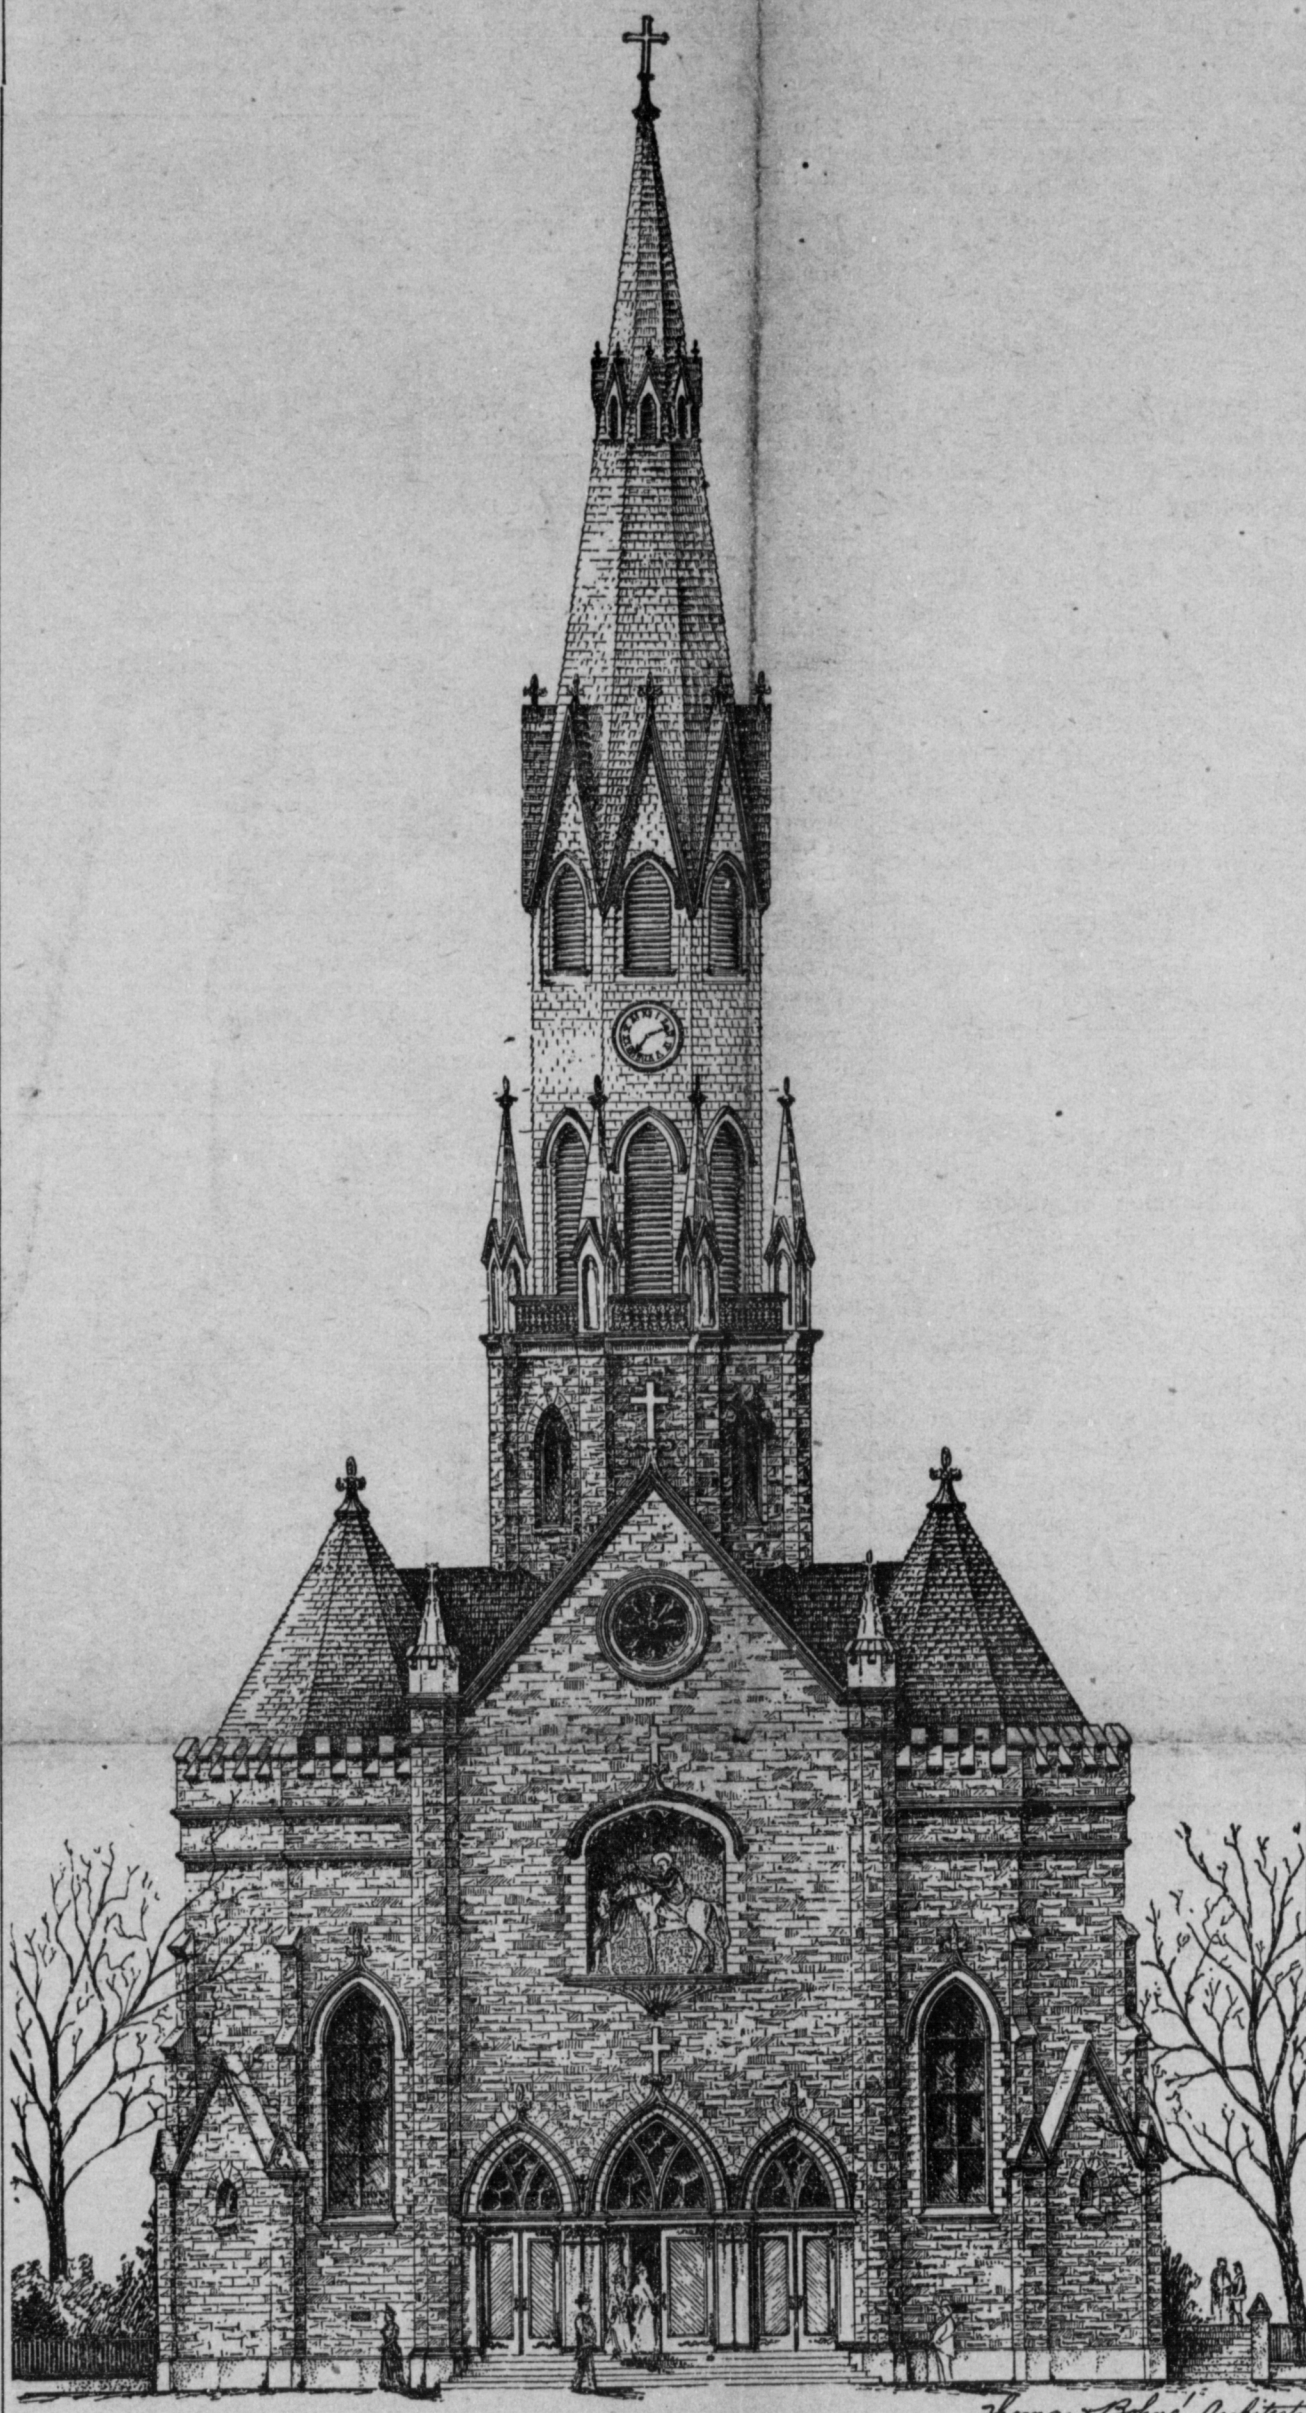

It was a great day for the Y. M. I. and it was a great day for the Catholic church. To the former it showed that its ranks were increasing in healthy numbers. To the latter it showed that the old faith was not dying out in this "land of the free and home of the brave," but on the contrary that the youths of America were determined to keep alive and boldly stand for the faith of their fathers while upholding the constitution of this glorious country. All were united "Pro Deo et Pro Patria."

HEALTH IMPROVES.

Father O'Sullivan Is Sojourning Among the Cascade Mountains.

The Rev. Father Anthony O'Sullivan, formerly of this city, is now sojourning in the Cascade mountains in the State of Washington for his health. A local paper last Monday published a sensational story to the effect that Father O'Sullivan was mysteriously missing and it was feared that he had met with foul play. There was not one word of truth in this report.

Father O'Sullivan is the son of Michael O'Sullivan, the retired shoemaker. He has been on country missions in Ohio county and in Breckinridge county during the past fifteen years, and his health was badly broken down by hard work. More than a month ago he applied to Bishop McCloskey for leave of absence and got it. This was published at the time in the official organ of the diocese. In a recent letter to his father, Michael O'Sullivan, at 1106 Sixth street, Father O'Sullivan stated that his health was steadily improving.

AN EXTERIOR VIEW OF ST. MARTIN'S CHURCH.

BEAUTIFUL

Is the Interior of St. Martin's Church With Its New Decorations.

Large Class of Boys and Girls to Receive Their First Communion.

Solemn Ceremonies Will Attend the First Masses of Three New Priests.

A GREAT AND PROSPEROUS PARISH

An extraordinarily large class of 132 children will receive their first holy communion at St. Martin's church, Shelby and Gray's streets, at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. Of these sixty-two are boys and seventy are girls. The Very Rev. Monsignor Zabler will officiate at the mass. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon solemn vespers will be sung and at 4 o'clock confirmation will be administered by the Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey.

St. Martin's beautiful and imposing edifice is now being cleared of the timber that has cumbed it during the past year while the church was being repaired and frescoed. The work will be completed today and the interior of the church will be more beautiful and attractive than ever. The decoration of the interior has proceeded without interruption for the past year. New marble altars have been added, new confessionals have been put in place and a shrine has been erected in honor of the Infant of Prague. The German-American Catholics who belong to St. Martin's congregation think there is nothing too good for the house of the Lord. As a consequence they have made St. Martin's church one of the handsomest, if not the very handsomest, in the city. At the same time these people are blessed. They have one of the largest and most flourishing parishes in the city. There are comparatively few really poor people in the parish.

The work of renovating St. Martin's is by no means complete. New hardwood flooring is to be put in and new and more comfortable pews. The tiled flooring in the aisles is already in place. The completion of the work may occupy the remainder of the summer.

On Sunday, June 21, the people of St. Martin's congregation will have another great day. It will be the occasion of the celebration of their first masses by three young priests, the Rev. Fathers Henry Reis, Bernard Eiling and Henry Kellerman. The masses will be celebrated at 8, 9 and 10 o'clock. After the masses the officiating priest will give his blessing to the members of the congregation. This is always considered an honor in Catholic communities, the blessing of a young priest after his first mass.

Now a word concerning the young priests. Father Reis was left without parents at an early age and was sent to St. Joseph's Orphan Asylum. He exhibited remarkable piety, energy and ability. He determined to become a priest and his life's dream is to be realized. Fathers Eiling and Kellerman were born and raised in St. Martin's parish, where their parents still reside.

FIRST HOLY COMMUNION.

A class of seventeen children received their first communion at St. Mary's of the Knobs, in Lafayette township, Ind., last Sunday. The Rev. Father Hildebrand conducted to services.

LIBERTY

Of Individuals Is the Only Proper Solution of the Situation.

Cardinal Gibbons' Interesting Talk On Labor and Capital.

American Workingman Loves Freedom Better Than Anything Else.

NON-UNION MEN HAVE THEIR RIGHTS

Cardinal Gibbons recently granted an interview to James Creelman, the celebrated correspondent of the New York World. As a matter of course, the particular subject upon which the eminent dignitary was interviewed was labor and capital. Says Mr. Creelman:

"Cardinal Gibbons always commands attention, but when he raises his voice against the oppression of the non-union workingman by the union workingman, as he did in a short conversation I had with him yesterday, his words have an impressive significance, for it was this most intensely American of all prelates, this faithful and unpretending friend of the American toiler, who once saved the Knights of Labor from ecclesiastical condemnation by Leo XIII.

"The primate of the Catholic hierarchy of America sat in the quiet reception room of his residence in Baltimore, a sweet and venerable figure. On an easel behind him was a portrait of the Pope. Another easel bore the countenance of Cardinal Newman. Through an open window one caught a glimpse of swinging green branches. A slender, nervous figure clad in a black soutane, with scarlet trappings; a thin, bony, pointed face; straight nose, high cheek bones, wasted temples, deep lines about the kindly, humorous mouth; a straight, wrinkled brow and gray hair issuing from under a scarlet skull cap. The American Cardinal is sixty-eight years old, but he has the eager address and patriotic enthusiasm of a boy. His gray eyes snap and sparkle as he talks. His slender hands, which have been raised in countless benedictions, are extraordinary in their suppleness and refinement.

"The whole personality suggests sanctity, modesty and sincerity. In spite of the golden chain and its pendant jeweled cross, the flashing episcopal ring and the princely scarlet, one can not meet the Cardinal without feeling that he bears the honors of his great office meekly, that he is, before all things, a simple hearted, devoted American citizen. Love of country is the keynote of his whole character.

"The struggle between capital and labor in the United States is a source of great sorrow and uneasiness to me just now," he said. "It is not only a serious interruption of the productive energies of the country, but it is a profound social upheaval—it is confusing our life. Here we are on this continent engaged in the supreme experiment of free government in the presence of the whole world, in the presence of history. The enemies of our institutions can snap their fingers at the republic if we show that we can not govern ourselves reasonably. We claim that we have liberty without license and authority without despotism. I do not want to live to see that claim discredited.

"The workingmen of America should realize how deeply and directly they are interested in preserving from injury the reputation of the United States as a land where liberty and law go hand in hand. The corporations, the employers, are powerful and united. They have the Government behind them to protect their rights. That is as it should be. The workingmen have formed unions for mutual improvement and protection. They are as much entitled to combine for business purposes as are their employers. That fact is undeniable. They are equally entitled to have their rights defended by the Government.

"The third factor in this situation is the non-union workingman. He, too, has his rights, which must be maintained. He has the right to enter a union or to stay out of it; to sell his labor when and where and for what price he pleases. When the union labor man denies that right he denies a liberty which he claims for himself. The union men say that they can not succeed in their struggles for good wages and better conditions so long as there are workingmen outside of their organization who can be used by employers to break strikes—that the unions are for the benefit of all who toil. Then they should give non-union men an opportunity to freely choose. They should get members by attraction, and not by compulsion. The very fact that a man feels that he is not free to enter or stay out of a union may be enough to repel him.

"The American workingman loves his freedom better than anything else. That is one of his finest traits. He resents anything that means compulsion of his rights. It is time for thoughtful labor union men to recognize this fact. I am strongly opposed to the boycott and to every other form of oppression employed against free labor. The whole force of organized society, all the powers of the Government, should be employed to insure to every man in this country his right to toil in his own way and under conditions of his own choice.

"It is difficult to indicate a solution of the labor question. Arbitration is one way and a good way. But whatever the solution may be, it must be one which will recognize individual liberty. No man must be allowed to oppress another man in this country."

HEARTY SUPPORT

Is Being Given the Irish Parliamentary Party in the East.

Hon. Joseph Devlin Has Met With Success in His Efforts.

Big Meetings Held in Many Places and Liberal Subscriptions Given.

CAREER OF BRILLIANT YOUNG MAN

The Hon. Joseph Devlin, M. P., is meeting with wonderful success in the Eastern States and Canada in his endeavors to enable the Irish Parliamentary party to carry on its good work. At a recent meeting held in Tara Hall, Quebec, $875 was subscribed, which with the sale of tickets brought the receipts of the evening up to $1,000.

Mr. Devlin also received hearty responses to his appeal in North Adams, Mass.; Keene, N. H.; Springfield, Mass., and Elizabeth, N. J. He has been equally successful in the South and addressed large meetings in Montgomery, Birmingham, Atlanta and elsewhere.

The gifted young Irish orator is a native of Belfast, but represents North Kilkenny in the British Parliament.

Mr. Devlin is still in his thirtieth year, but he has had an experience in the rough and stormy Irish politics which does not often come to men who are double his age. Indeed he has taken to the subject as naturally as a duck takes to water, for since boyhood he has been one of the principal figures in the contest where the strife was thickest. Mr. Devlin was not fifteen years old when in 1866 the great struggle over the first home rule bill of Gladstone took place. He had not been long out of school, but long enough to have imbibed that spirit of national aggressiveness which was such a characteristic movement. Young Devlin was from the outset a leader among his youthful companions in Belfast. They knew his integrity and earnestness and they were inspired by the example of uncompromising nationalist spirit which he had displayed.

When Thomas Sexton, the brilliant and eloquent orator, essayed to win the seat in West Belfast for the national cause in 1885 young Devlin at once became his most enthusiastic adherent. With all the energy and spirit of boyhood he threw himself into the struggle, marshaling the national forces both in the revision courts and on the hustings. His example became contagious; Sexton was triumphantly elected. From that day forth there was no rest for Devlin in the national fight. Wherever the struggle was keenest there he was to be found.

Of a modest and retiring disposition, with a natural flow of eloquence rarely equaled even in the land of oratory, he combines at the same time an amount of practical common sense and hard-headed capacity not often found in one individual. He had never visited the constituency up to the time of his election, but he was nevertheless the unanimous choice of those of the constituency who knew his sterling worth even though they had never seen him. Mr. Devlin spent six months last year in the United States in the work of organizing branches of the United Irish League, returning to Ireland last June. He then attended to his Parliamentary duties until the close of the last session of Parliament, when he was again called for by John Redmond, M. P., during the progress of the national convention of the U. I. L. of A. held in Boston last October.

Mr. Devlin has been for years at the head of an extensive business in Belfast, and outside of the ordinary work which he has done on the Irish platform, mainly in his native province, he has been reluctant to take a prominent place in the rank of the Irish leaders. He declined on several occasions to accept an election to Parliament for an Irish seat, in order that he may be able to devote his time to his private business. A year ago, however, when he was by unanimous choice of the National Directory of the United Irish League chosen to come to America with William Redmond, M. P., brother of the present Irish leader, his colleagues took advantage of his absence from Ireland and had him elected to fill the vacancy in the representation of North Kilkenny.

It was desired that Mr. Devlin should continue the work of organization in America and he immediately responded to the summons of his leader and has since been engaged in the work of establishing branches all over the country. As a platform speaker Mr. Devlin well sustains the reputation of the Irish party for eloquence, and it is rarely that a more cogent and logical speaker on the Irish question has been heard on platforms in the United States.

At a meeting of the National Committee of the United Irish League of America held in New York Monday night active steps were taken for spreading the League in America. Mr. Devlin, who was about to sail for home, was accorded a vote of thanks for his work in establishing new branches of the League.

No effort has yet been made to organize any portion of Kentucky.

HONOR FIRST.

The big strike in the New York building trades did not end last week because the teamsters, in whose behalf it was inaugurated, rejected the compromise of the arbitrators. This has resulted in the skilled trades unions upholding the award and refusing to continue the strike. It is now up to the teamsters and those unions which back them up in their obstinate breach of faith to accept the arbitrators' settlement or go it alone to defeat. Honor comes first, even though you do not get all you think you ought to have, and it is to the credit of the leading trades unions of New York that they have the manliness to take such a stand against their fellow-laborers, who must be taught by the sacrifice of experience, if they will not learn otherwise, that honesty is the best policy—the only correct policy—in labor matters, as in everything else.

TO SHUT OUT FOREIGNERS.

The depression of trade and the lack of employment in Europe and the universal activity and prosperity in all industries of this country have naturally turned labor to the market where it is in demand. The foreign immigration to the United States this year is exceeding all records and may go to 1,000,000. Our anti-foreign element is becoming alarmed lest this "foreign horde" swamp the labor market, get control of affairs, overturn our republican Government and upset things generally. This is the same old cry of fifty years ago, and notwithstanding this element have failed to stop or even check foreign immigration, and all their doleful prognostications instead of materializing have resulted in phenomenal benefits to the whole country, this same element are now agitating to urge Congress at its next session to amend our immigration laws to prohibit, or at least restrict, foreign immigration, and revise our naturalization laws to exclude the immigrants from citizenship, if not entirely, at least to require twenty-one years' preliminary residence before a foreigner can vote or hold office.

This is not new, neither the alleged menace to our people and institutions nor the remedy proposed. It is the same old Know-Nothing war cry and bulwark of protection fifty years ago. Though the Know-Nothing crusade failed to check immigration or bar the foreigners from citizenship—only diverted the "foreign horde" to the then wilderness of the Northwest—the results have proven just contrary to their prophetic fears. The northwestern wilderness has been developed into farms, cities and States, which in progress, industry, wealth and (strangely true) in patriotic devotion to American institutions, control this great nation and have led it to the very front rank of the world powers.

And the comparison with that section which remained to some extent under control of the anti-foreign patriots and barred out the immigrants! The South, which fifty years ago proved a bulwark to stem the tide of Know-Nothing fanaticism, became its final stronghold, furnishing its last Representatives in Congress and candidate for President. Ever since, in every election, directly or indirectly, organized or unorganized, this same Know-Nothing spirit has been manifest. Whenever the movement has assumed shape, under whatever name, it has found ready advocates and recruits in the South. Thus the last National President of the A. P. A. was a Georgian, and whatever remains of that organization intact is in the South, except in spots. And the anti-foreign agitation now being revived for action in Congress and probably in the next Presidential campaign has its strength and its headquarters in the South, or at least near the border—St. Louis and Louisville—and most aggressive in Missouri and Kentucky.

The remarkable tirade of Senator Morgan, of Alabama, against the Catholic church in opposing the Colombian treaty to secure a right of way for the Isthmian canal, a project he had advocated for years, while a surprise to some, clearly indicated the trend of intolerance, its influence in the South, and that political names and platforms were secondary—Senator Morgan being a leading Democrat, as are many of the most prominent anti-foreign advocates. The South which fifty years ago turned away and has kept out foreign immigration, and which today, more than other section of the country, needs the foreign immigrant to develop and build it up; to give it what it most lacks—industrious, reliable, enterprising labor—that it may become productive, prosperous, as has Texas, the only Southern State that welcomes the immigrant and has about one-half of the foreign-born population of all the Southern States; it is from the South the demand comes for restricting foreign immigration, or at least barring foreigners from citizenship. And these advocates of intolerance are principally professed Democrats, many of them leaders and officeholders in that party, which fought such intolerance up to fifty years ago, and by the votes of naturalized foreigners was enabled to overthrow Know-Nothingism. Democrats—or anything else—they may profess to be to attain power and office, but anti-foreigners they are first, last and all the time, regardless of results to their section or the entire country.

And to speak out, they are striving throughout the South in the pending campaigns—right here in Kentucky and in Louisville—to obtain control of the Democratic party, to name its candidates for all offices and elect them as Democrats that they may have the powers as government, State, county, local, to make, amend and enforce law and manage public affairs. The wrangling and strife in Democratic party affairs in this city and State are due to this. If they can not secure the nomination of their chosen candidates they seek to prevent the nomination of all foreigners and Catholics and those believed to be at all opposed to ostracizing them. For Democracy they care no more than they did for Republicanism some years ago when for a time they controlled that party locally—only to use as a cloak and a bait to deceive the partisan who blindly votes the ticket and thus helps them to win. They were howling Republicans a few years ago; today they are true-blue Democrats, denouncing the Republican party and the "foreign" Democrats; the Republicans for trucking to the Pope in Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines, and the "foreign" Democrats because they don't like a foreigner anyhow. And their record proves they will betray party to defeat candidates who disapprove of their intolerance, as a few years ago, posing as Republicans and failing to dictate the nomination, their treachery defeated Judge Evans for re-election to Congress in this district.

This is the element that is scheming to control the Democratic party and dominate affairs in Kentucky and the South, that they may exclude foreign immigration, or failing in this, only allow the foreigner, like the negro, to be laborers and tax-payers, ostracized from voting and holding office.

It was against taxation without representation that the American Colonies protested and revolted, but England has not changed her policy. Having by promises in the terms of peace caused the Boers to surrender and obtained control of the Transvaal, the Imperial Government is dictating the "free" government to be established over the colony. The latest decree is that negroes and aliens must not be allowed the rights of citizens; only loyal white British subjects are to be allowed to vote and hold office. The American Republic is a living protest against that kind of free government, but, strangely, the only truly loyal Americans we have are seeking to re-establish the English policy—exclude negroes and aliens from citizenship, that only loyal white Americans of their standard be allowed to vote and hold office.

The Chicago labor unions have turned the tables on those employers who refuse to recognize unions and insist on protecting the liberty of workmen by treating only with the individual. To carry out their idea they organized the "Employers' Association" and gave out their def. Last week the waiters in hotels, clubs and restaurants went on strike. Some of the employers signed the scale, and the association, realizing they were whipped, sent a request to union headquarters for a conference, which was refused with the declaration that the "Employers' Association" was not recognized, and the union would treat only with individual employers, and the humiliated employers crowded over each other to sign the union agreement, all of which would have been avoided if the Employers' Association committee had met and conferred with the union committee before the strike. There are obstinately foolish employers as well as workmen.

Lord Roberts, the Irish Commander-in-Chief of the British army, is to be the guest of the Boston Distillery Company. That ought to put him in good spirits.

GRAND SUCCESS.

Mackin Council's Annual Meeting Drew an Enormous Crowd.

Mackin Council, Y. M. I., held a very successful picnic at Fern Grove on Tuesday. It was successful numerically, socially and financially. In the morning one boat carried an immense crowd to the grounds and in the afternoon two boat loads were carried up. The picnic committee made up of George Lantz, Ben Sands, Will Kerberg, Hugh J. Higgins, George Simonis, Frank Adams, Tom Shaughnessy, Fred Herp, Frank Lanthorn, John Galloway and Alfred Wahl did heroic and incessant work in maintaining the dignity of the Council and looking after the wants of the people during the trip up the river, at the grounds and en route home. No pleasure outing was ever given by any local society, and all who attended were well pleased with their experience.

The holders of winning tickets are as follows: No. 166, a handsome sideboard; 167, parlor lamp; 1,471, box of cigars; 997, box of tobacco; 546, silk sofa pillow; 1,019, one year's subscription to the Louisville Times; 2,301, silk umbrella; 2,929, pair of trousers; 2,265, rocking chair; 1,606, gentleman's hat; 57, one year's subscription to the Kentucky Irish American; 2,781, one barrel of flour; 187, gentleman's hat; 2, automatic swing; 82, pair of trousers.

The drawings were conducted by little Miss Alice Karmann, Master Henry Kerberg, Dr. Alphonse Biot and Councilman A. J. Biot. From present indications Mackin Council will net $500 as a result of the picnic. To their friends, one and all, the members of Mackin Council return hearty thanks for the support given them. Persons holding the winning tickets can get their prizes by applying to William Kerberg at Mackin Club House, 530 Twenty-sixth street.

DIED ON DUTY.

Fireman Harry Charlton Met Death While Answering an Alarm.

Harry H. Charlton, a member of the Louisville fire department, met a sudden death in an unfortunate accident at First and A streets Sunday night about midnight. Mr. Charlton, as aide to Assistant Chief Frank Hager, was driving with the latter in response to an alarm from South Louisville. The clatter of the horse's hoofs on the asphalt pavement prevented Capt. Hager and his passenger from hearing the approaching fast passenger train from Cincinnati. When only a short distance from the train Capt. Hager saw the danger and tried to turn his horse, but it was too late. The locomotive struck the fireman's buggy and mangled it into splinters. Capt. Hager was only slightly injured, but when the debris was cleared away poor Harry Charlton was found dead with a terrible hole in his head.

The remains were sent to his home at 432 East Kentucky street. The funeral took place Wednesday morning from St. Paul's church, Rev. Father York officiating, the interment being in St. Louis cemetery.

Harry Charlton was born in Louisville twenty-eight years ago and was the son of the Hon. Albert Charlton and the late Margaret Charlton. A few years ago he married Miss Nora Roache, who with two small children survive him. The father, brothers, sisters and beloved wife and family of the deceased have the heartfelt sympathy of the people of Louisville in their bereavement. Harry Charlton died the death of a hero. When the final summons came it found him at his post of duty, hurrying along in the darkness of the night to save the property, perhaps the lives, of others. He died as he lived, faithful in his endeavors to aid his fellow-man.

DEATH INTERFERES
Commencement Exercises at Holy Rosary Academy Abandoned.

The Dominican Sisters of the Holy Rosary Academy have decided to abandon their commencement exercises this year, owing to the death of Sister Fidelis. This excellent young Sister had charge of the musical part of the programme and had the work well in hand when she died Thursday of last week. Out of respect to her memory the pupils and their parents requested the Sisters to abandon the commencement exercises this year. Their request has been granted.

Miss Suzanne Feighan, the graduate, and Miss Mary Rose Kelly, the sub-graduate, will assist in the commencement exercises at St. Catherine's Academy, near Springfield, next Wednesday. The Holy Rosary Academy is an excellent school for girls and has just closed a prosperous year.

Sister Fidelis was born in Memphis twenty-four years ago. She was known in the world as Miss Matilda Silver. Her mother died when she was quite a small child and Miss Silver was placed under the care of the Dominican Sisters at St. Agnes' Academy, Memphis. Seven years ago she graduated from that institution. The academy was her home, the Sisters were her sisters in very truth. She could not bear to leave them. She at once entered upon her novitiate and two years later she made her final profession as Sister Fidelis. She was a most accomplished musician and was beloved by all the Sisters and pupils. Eighteen months ago she was sent to the Holy Rosary Academy in this city. She had been ill only a few days when death came to her relief. Her untimely demise is greatly regretted.

ALL IN LINE
Members of Division 1 Will Strive to Make the Field
Day a Success.

Division 1, Ancient Order of Hibernians, held a well attended meeting Tuesday night, with President Mike Tynan in the chair. Tom Cody and Patrolman James Twobig, who had not attended a meeting for some time past, were given a royal welcome when they appeared. The report of the Committee on Federation was well received. Thomas Dolan was made chairman of the Committee on Games for the Irish field day. The County Board suggested frequent union meetings of all the divisions. The suggestion met with favor and Division 1 is heartily in accord with the suggestion. These meetings will probably be arranged for in the near future. Other matters of great interest to all Hibernians were discussed and referred to committees. Reports will be made to Division 1 at its next meeting. Every member of Division 1 is thoroughly impressed with the necessity of making the field day a success.

NEW IF TRUE.
A correspondent of the New York Herald sends his paper from London a cablegram in which he says it is currently rumored that the Hon. W. Bourke Cockran, the noted Irish orator, is about to marry Miss Kathleen Mathew, daughter of Lord Justice Mathew, of the Supreme Court of England. She is also a grand niece of the late Father Theobald Mathew, the noted Irish temperance orator. Miss Mathew is twenty-two years old and very pretty. Her eldest sister is the wife of John Dillon, M. P. Mr. Cockran's first wife died about eight years ago. He is now in Ireland seeking to regain his health.

EDIFYING SPECTACLE.
The Very Rev. Father E. M. Faller, assisted by Rev. F. X. Unterreimter, gave the first holy communion to a class of fifty-four boys and girls at St. Mary's Catholic church, New Albany, last Sunday.

day. Within a few weeks these children and those who received their first communion last year will be confirmed by the Right Rev. Denis O'Donoghue, auxiliary Bishop of Indianapolis.

BANISHED MONKS
To Sojourn Temporarily With Brethren at Gethsemani Abbey.

The Right Rev. Abbot Edmond Obrecht, of Gethsemani Abbey, arrived in Louisville Wednesday with seventeen monks of the Cistercian Order. These are the first of 300 members of the order who have been expelled from France to reach America. They spent the day at Seelbach's Hotel in this city and in the evening departed for Gethsemani Abbey, where they will remain until a new abbey is founded in the United States. It will probably be located either in Texas or California.

Thus France's loss is America's gain. These good men have been driven from their homes in the abbeys of France, which have been made sacred by the lives of the Cistercian monks during the last six centuries. They have made the wilderness blossom as the rose, have founded schools and colleges. But the present Government of France desires to banish all forms of religion. The French monks have to go.

Father Obrecht will shortly make another trip to New York and will meet another group of the banished monks. It is expected that 100 of them will be at least temporary cared for in Gethsemani. The others will be cared for in Canada and Iowa.

HOLY CROSS CHURCH
Will Be a Scene of Splendor When the Children Receive Holy Communion.

The Rev. Father Bernard Cunningham will give the first holy communion to a class of twenty-five children at Holy Cross church at the mass at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. It is expected that the church will be filled to overflowing with friends and relatives of the little ones. The children who are to receive are Robert Burrell, Theodore Adams, Frank Mulverhill, Leo Patrick, Louis Exley, Edward Lickteig, Jacob Schmidt, Joseph Ryan and Thomas Reddington, and Misses Lillie Litchfield, Mary Ecken, Rosa Schnipp, Josephine Klein, Odella Wild, Julia Summers, Carrie Ziller, Jennie Smith, Magdalen Kesler, Annie Summers, Lillie Eisner, Rose Muth, Hazel Bass and Lillie Bowman.

NINE GRADUATES.
The pupils of the Academy of Our Lady of Mercy will hold their commencement exercises in the academy hall, 1152 East Broadway, at 10 o'clock on the morning of Wednesday, June 17. The graduates will be Misses Agnes Elizabeth Coady, Rose Cecilia Watson, Katherine Louise Reedy, Adelaide Mary Hillerich, Isabelle Amelia Straub, Gertrude Catherine McGinn, Rose Augusta Fedler and Josephine Catherine Gnaul. The exercises promise to be of a high order. Admission will be by ticket.

TO GIVE A SMOKER.
The Holy Name Society of St. Louis Bertrand's congregation will give a smoker at Bertrand Hall on Monday night. One of the Dominican priests will deliver an address. All the men of the parish are invited to attend. The committee on arrangements is made up of John H. Hennessy, D. J. Meagher and Joseph Morthorst.

GOOD FOR BURNS.
James T. Burns, formerly of this city, but now of Springfield, Mo., was the representative of Post C, of Springfield, at the national convention of the Travelers' Protective Association at Indianapolis this week. Mr. Burns was prominent in debates and also represented his post.

IRISH HISTORY
Should Be Taught in the Parochial Schools, Says Division 4,
A. O. H.

Division 4, Ancient Order of Hibernians, held a well attended meeting on Wednesday night. President John Hennessy was in the chair. Applications were received from Tim P. Swirt, Thomas Broderick and David Welsh. It was decided to call the roll at all meetings hereafter, and a fine to be assessed for non-attendance. A communication from the national board officers showed that the order was advancing all over the country in point of membership. The visiting committee reported that John Connors and James Hogan, who had been on the sick list, had recovered. Thomas Deviney is still ill. Messrs. John Hellen, Harry Brady and John J. Barry were appointed a committee to draught a physician's certificate for use in connection with sick claims. It was also determined to keep a record of unemployed members of the division in order that it might be referred to by the employment committee.

County President Pat Sullivan, John J. Barry and State Secretary William T. Meehan were present and both made addresses urging the members to make the field day a success. State Secretary Meehan also stated that the Hibernians in this section of the country should urge that Irish history and the Irish language be taught in the parochial schools frequented by Irish children. County President Sullivan spoke about the benefits to be achieved from the federation of Catholic societies. Both addresses were well received.

CATHOLIC KNIGHTS
Hold Annual Street Parade and Celebration Tomorrow Afternoon.

The various branches of the Catholic Knights of America of Louisville, Jeffersonville and New Albany will hold their annual street parade and celebration tomorrow afternoon. The various branches will assemble at St. Mary's church, Eighth street, near Grayson, at 1:30 o'clock. At 2 o'clock the parade, headed by a platoon of police and a brass band, will move south to Walnut street, then east to Fifth, in past the Cathedral to Market street, east to Brook, south to Jefferson, east to Jackson, south to Green, and thence to St. Boniface church, where vespers will be sung at 3 o'clock. After that the annual address will be delivered by the Very Rev. Father Paul Alf. From present indications there will 2,000 men in line.

SEASON FOR COAL.
Joseph Dougherty, the well known dealer in coal and coke, has removed his office to 847 West Market street. He is prepared to fill all orders, large or small, for freshly mined and well screened coal. Mr. Dougherty says this is the time of year to lay in the winter supply, and all orders placed with him will receive prompt attention. He is a young and energetic Irish-American, who has worked hard to build up a successful business and is succeeding admirably.

SCHUH TO MEET SIMMS.
George Schuh and Art Simms will meet in a twenty-round boxing contest at Music Hall Monday night. The men are to weigh 135 pounds at the ringside. Schuh is a well known and promising local boxer. Simms lives in Akron, O. He has met and bested several good ones. The bout will be under the auspices of the Louisville Athletic Club. A first class battle is promised.

TRINITY COUNCIL PREPARES.
The various committees of Trinity Council, Young Men's Institute, are holding meetings and making arrangements for their picnic to be given at Fern Grove on July 4. Preparations are being made to make this the grandest outing ever held at Fern Grove by any association.

GRATIFYING TO ALL.
Rev. Father Walsh, pastor of the Sacred Heart church, read the report of the Debt Paying Association last Sunday. The report shows that the debt of the church is steadily decreasing. Both the pastor and people are very anxious for the day to come when the debt will be entirely wiped out.

AWAY ON LEAVE.
The Rev. Father George Coe, formerly secretary to our Right Reverend Bishop and now a curate at St. Patrick's church, has been granted a month's leave of absence. He will spend it with relatives in Bennington, Vt.

HINTS ON STYLE.
Canvas dresses will be much worn. Grapes embroidered in feathers is a new feature in millinery. Belts of suede in gray, drab or brown are worn with shirtwaists. The new belts are shaped to perfection with the downward front drop. Among the newest things in parasols are those of red moire silk with black dots. Artistically colored laces are quite the latest craze as a trimming for summer dresses. A rather severely plain style of dressing is by far the smartest mode at present for juveniles. Fine cloths will be worn throughout the summer in light blue, such as Delft and sky, pink and the tenderest lettuce green. The close-fitting front corset cover is in a small minority this season, all the more desirable trimming styles having felled fronts.
